

Mayfire - Cloudscapes & Silhouettes (Lyrics)

The Fall

(MJX/REX)

*Some say it was the overpopulation that started it all
Some say it's just human nature: The power. The Greed.
The never-ending reach for more
It doesn't matter much who was wrong or right
And the Earth was left broken
And it didn't stop human nature
So if you ask me
The fall, it was just a matter of time*

City Of Ruins

(MJX/REX)

Another widow seeks my attention
I'm not afraid to face her wrath
Out of hope
Dreams about limbo
Another life goes south

I wonder if we were always like this
Words you don't want to hear

Someone's sorrow is projected from your eyes
You want to feel it, but you are in denial

I wonder if we were always like this
Words you don't want to hear

Earth kept spinning around
Until we broke it
Now we are wondering how
How we can save it

How we can save it

When I'm around, peace will follow
This is the only way
You want to fight
You desperately defy
This will be your long goodbye
Your long goodbye

Your long goodbye

So why don't you walk away
And let us live our ways
In this life we must all strive to survive

I wonder if we were always like this
Words you don't want to hear
Earth kept spinning around
Until we broke it
Now we are wondering how
How we can save it

How we can save it

Now we are wondering how
How we can save everyone

Shadows

(MJX/REX)

The feeling of drowning
Has never been so real
Emotions, desire
Will it ever go away

I'm slowly going under
I'm closer now than ever
You think that I am floating
But I'm slowly drowning
I can't feel the rain no more
I am surrounded by the water
Such a crazy feeling
As I'm going under Deeper and deeper

Trying to understand
Never to be the same
Now that I've seen it, it all makes sense
Saying you're sorry don't go this time
Giving you another chance
Or never to be seen again

The feeling of drowning
Has never been so real
Emotions, desire
Will it ever go away

End of the traces I have followed for a while Led me to this place
It's cold, but it feels alive

Trying to remember
When the feelings were so strong
I would give the world to see you
And a time when we belonged

Trying to understand
Never to be the same
Now that I've seen it, it all makes sense
Saying you're sorry doesn't go this time
Giving you another chance

Or never to be seen again

Have you seen my play
It gets better every day
And no one knows for sure who's the villain anymore
And someone told me a long time ago
You will find what you seek
A promise to remember, a hope to call upon
I can feel it in my bones

I'm not broken
I'm not dead
I am far from all the blame
You held me back from falling to the shadows
Waiting, just to find it was a lie
But now I understand

Now I understand

I'm not broken
I'm not dead
No, I'm not broken

Cloudscapes & Silhouettes

(MJX/REX)

You are not alone
But you bear all your burdens alone
And I know that you're strong on your own
Carry on
Just be strong

Know that I'm always right here by your side
Whenever you need me to be
So hold on
Be strong
Carry on

Trying to forget who you are
Giving up on all that you seek

So long ago
Would you remember me
Getting on the right side of this
What if we made it through tomorrow?

Tired of being alone
From the wars that we fought
This is going to be
Like burning our hope through the night
And we never find moments like this when we are apart

Know that I'm always right here by your side
Whenever you need me to be
So hold on
Stay strong
Carry on

Trying to forget who you are

So long ago
Would you remember me
Getting on the right side of this
What if we made it through tomorrow?

Because I'm not alone
And I bear not these burdens alone
With you by my side they got nowhere to hide
We'll burn their castles to the ground

So you feel that you been stuck in the moment
You are never going to be willing to fight
So you fear that you're stuck in this moment
For the rest of your life

Because I'm not alone
And I bear not these burdens alone
With you by my side, they got nowhere to hide

Thicker Than Water
(MJX/REX)

Oh mother
Don't you fear

I will be back, just you relax

Oh father
Don't you see
You guided me well to the man I'm meant to be

Building this feeling, then all this gives meaning to me
Knowing your destined to find your contestant is why
Why we keep searching to find it where ever it hides
Then try not to worry
Don't be in denial

Oh brother
Can't you see
Nothing has changed I can reveal

Oh Sister
I am waiting
And I know it's not in vain

Building this feeling, then all this gives meaning to me
Why we keep searching to find it where ever it hides
Then try not to worry
Don't be in denial

Sharing the moments
You love to recall
I know the full meaning of being in love
A million stars up in the sky
One shines brighter I can't deny
This is the meaning of love

Oh family
And all that you gave to me
How can I repay your love
And how can I show you now
My feelings are true
And only for you

And to all we got around
This is how my love would sound

A Sense Of Purpose
(MJX/REX)

I left it all behind
I know what I have done
Silence in my mind

A construct by my own design

Turn around
Let's head back home
The pain is gone
Let's change the way we live our life
Not alone
You can't let go
I know
Soon I'll be six feet under

I could never see
The way you needed me
And now you wonder why
This is our last goodbye

Turn around
Let's head back home
The pain is gone
Let's change the way we live our life
Not alone
You can't let go
I know
Soon I'll be six feet under

Soon I'll be six feet under

Just let it go

I need to know that you are headed for something better
After I'm six feet under
You need to know that I did it
For making it better

So you'll make it on your own

On your own

Vinternatt
(MJX/REX)

Could you imagine
The moments before the fall
Blurred the lines when we were losing control
If you could change it?
Would you really want to?
Would you really want to know what I do?

Even if I knew you'd fall
Never could I let them see that it got to me
Now even you know my role
Would you do it all again?

But we are five miles away
So they say
But I don't believe them anymore
Could we share a new tomorrow?

When the world was breaking down
And the weight was on the crown
The light they had brought to the war
Soon turned into darkness
When all hope seemed to be fading out
«Retreat» was all they'd shout
Then a man from the crowd emerged
And put a stop to the violence

Lost the understanding for our trials as errors
What if all we knew was wrong?
If we could take a step back and reinvent the rules
What could be?
What would be for you and me?

But we are five miles away
So they say
But I don't believe them anymore
Could we share a new tomorrow?

When the world was breaking down
And the weight was on the crown
The light they had brought to the war
Soon turned into darkness
When all hope seemed to be fading out
«Retreat» was all they'd shout
Then a man from the crowd emerged

You could do this differently
You would know the right from wrong?
All we find is violence in us all
There must be something more
Heavy lies the crown

I never feared to see this day
Sharing this moment with you
But I am not alone
As the shadows meets the eye
We are waiting on you

When the world was breaking down
And the weight was on the crown
The light they had brought to the war
Soon turned into darkness
When all hope seemed to be fading out
«Retreat» was all they'd shout
Then a man from the crowd emerged

Fearless

(MJX/REX)

So you want to be a fighter?
You better listen and I will tell you all I can
But even if I could
There's a lot of things that you can't know

You tried to justify
The time you walked by my side
As the plot unfolds
There is more to this than we can know

And when you feel that you could turn away and run
Or be remembered as the man that stood his ground
And if you tried to
Could you strike them all down?
Would you strike them all down?

To be the man I'm meant to be
To stay or walk away
Reaching out your hand
To make me understand
This war is never-ending
This part of me can never be free
Fighting the rage that burns inside me

And when you feel that you could turn away and run
Or be remembered as the man that stood his ground
And if you tried to
Could you strike them all down?
Would you strike them all down?

We belong to the light
A beacon in the night
Never felt so alive
For the very first time
And we are standing our ground
Ever so strong

Never alone

It seems like we are holding on for now
It feels like we have already won
After all we said and all we have done
We could never run
We have to go on strong
Like we won
Like we won

So you want to be a fighter?
You better listen, I will tell you all I can
But even if I could

You tried to justify
The time you walked by my side
As the plot unfolds
There is more to this than we can know

To be the man I'm meant to be
To stay or walk away
To make me understand

Fighting the rage that burns inside of me

Age Of Kings

(MJX/REX)

Moments of rain
Sending my thoughts away
Been staring at these lights in the distance
Feeling kind of safe here
Alone

Oh sun, please arise
Join me on my journey far away
Another day we share
Until the darkness arrives

We are like fuel to the fire
A dance of desire
Slowly drowning, state your will
Were you born to kill?

And we are frozen in time
Made to defy
Born to fly, to deny
As a memory

Please stay with me
When history is written
No need to hide, the enemy is beaten
Where will you go now, where would you stay
If tomorrow brings death to us
Don't let this moment ever be the end!

Been staring at these lights in the distance
Alone
